Austrian Paper Notgeld

We have just received the second edition of "Katalog des Osterreichischen Notgülden 1916-1921" by Karl Zaksch and Albert Pick. They are pretty high priced.

 Must be one of the results of the falling value of the U.S. dollar overseas. Anyway they are 70 deutsch marks or $34.00 postpaid. We have four copies for sale.
 The first four orders received will get these copies at $34.00 each.

There have been a large number of notes with changed values, mostly upward from the values given in the first ed.

Notes for the Sale

We are using the official A.N.A. Grading Standard for United States coins for the first time in this sale. I find this to be similiar to the Brown and Dunn Grading that we have always used in the past. In a way, we have incorporated both systems as we still use the F, VF, XF, etc. grade plus the numbers used in the A.N.A. System. In some cases I believe the ANA system has made improvements over the B&D system, and in other cases the difference is minute. I strongly do believe however that this is not the cure-all that has been claimed by certain people in the matter of grading coins. The same people who under B&D system graded a F coin VF, VF-XF, as AU and UNC will under the new system grade 12 as 20 or 30, a 30 as 40 or 45, and a 45 as 55 or 60, so where is the difference?

Do not expect our catalogs to be issued as often as in the past. We are not getting any younger and due to the actions of the post office, I have become disgusted with the whole setup. Last sale we had several addresses that were on packages that we had mailed returned to us. The P.O.-Dep Dept. claimed these packages were ripped apart by automatic machines now in use, but in every case none of the enclosed material was ever found. Draw your own conclusions. In some cases the package was definitely slit open on one end by a sharp instrument and the material removed. If the P.O. could find the addresses of these packages to return, how come none of the coins or tokens?? It is my belief that some people obtained some new additions to their collections for a cheap price. That is why we insist on insurance.

Happy and Safe Vacations,
Clarence, Katherine and Dan Symes
